Activities – What To Do - Suggestions

Here are a few ideas to get you started....

- Walk through St David's Park to the waterfront, check out Aurora Australis (Antarctic Supply Ship), fishing trawlers and yachts, resident steam-crane and working draw-bridge, Mawson Place, Henry Jones Hotel and cafe.
- Walk the streets of Battery Point - see architecture, materials and craftsmanship created by our early settlers.
- Lose yourself in Salamanca Place – numerous galleries and artist co-operative spaces, locally produced items, bookshops, cafes, bars. Don't be shy, some of the best treasures can be found tucked behind corners, up alley ways and staircases.
- TMAG recently finished a major refurbishment, and is an inspiring few hours for gallery-goers. It's on Davey Street, near Argyle St corner. www.tmag.tas.gov.au
- Mount Wellington - looks over Hobart, probably 1.5 hour round trip.
- Port Arthur convict settlement - about 1.5 hour drive from Hobart.
- MONA Art Gallery - <http://mona.net.au/visit/getting-here/>
- Moorilla Winery - <http://mona.net.au/mona/winery>
- Cascade Brewery - <http://www.cascadebreweryco.com.au/>
- Lark Whisky Distillery - <http://www.larkdistillery.com.au/>
- Wilderness intro - <http://www.adventureforests.com.au/>
- All sorts of listings - <http://www.discovertasmania.com/>
- Some beautiful towns can be found on your travels, they are very attractive, as they have changed very little since they were first built.

Pump it!

This house was built in 1856, along with it a pump...heritage laws require us to keep it. If you hear it occasionally don't be alarmed, it's perfectly normal.

Picnic

How about a Picnic in St David's Park, or on Mt Wellington perhaps? Why not. The picnic basket is all ready to go, and can be found on the shelf underneath the Television.
